

Radiation protection in focus - atw article on repatriation transport

2021-11-17

Marco Wilmsmeier, GNS project manager for the HAW repatriation from the UK, and Michael Köbl, head of the Communications Department at GNS, have published a technical article in atw about the first repatriation of vitrified reprocessing waste from Sellafield and, in particular, how the challenges of transport organisation and radiation protection were overcome.

You can download the article from our website.